

Dear Parents,

When we return from Thanksgiving, we will have a big adventure during the month of December. We will read several versions of The Gingerbread Man to the children. We will create our own gingerbread man in our room to connect the children with this character from the story. The gingerbread man in our rooms will "disappear" and we will discover that he's run away from us, just like in the story! After all that excitement, we will start making a plan to get him back. We will do many different activities to try to solve the mystery. We will learn about many new places and find each location on a map! Please help us with this adventure, by having your friends and relatives send postcards from around the country (or even overseas if you can) to report sightings of our missing gingerbread man. To keep it exciting, please ask your friends and family to:

- Say they were doing something ordinary when they spotted this cute gingerbread man.
- Report that they tried to stop him, but he turned to them and shouted: "Run, run, as fast as you can. You can't catch me. I'm the gingerbread man!"
- Please have them address the letter to your child. The class will be so excited to get cards addressed to them.
- Start sending those in as soon as possible. The mail gets bogged down during this time, so contact your friends and family right away!!!

P.S. This is a secret, so please don't tell your Kindergartener about it.

Mail postcards/letters to:
Mrs. Myrie's Class
Comstock Elementary
7152 Silverado Trail
McKinney, TX 75070

I know that this will be an exciting and educational adventure for our children. Thank you so much for participating.
